

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA HEALTH SYSTEM
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
DEPARTMENT OF DERMATOLOGY

The University of California, Davis, School of Medicine, Department of Dermatology, is recruiting for one part- or full-time academic position at the Assistant/Associate Professor level in the Clinical X series or Health Sciences Clinical Professor (HSCP) series based on experience and qualifications. Completion of an accredited dermatology residency program is required. The selected candidate will be expected to participate in clinical care, teaching, research, and university service. Candidates must possess an MD or MD/PhD, can be board eligible, but must be board certified in dermatology at the time of starting employment and must be eligible for medical licensure in the State of California. The candidate will be expected to combine clinical and surgical duties and we will give preference to candidates with a formal fellowship in procedural dermatology. This position is located in Sacramento, California.

The Department of Dermatology (<http://www.ucdmc.ucdavis.edu/dermatology>) is a major clinical care, research, and teaching department in the School of Medicine. Our faculty are engaged in multiple collaborations with other Schools and UC Davis campus departments, research centers, clinical centers, and primary care networks.

For full consideration, applications must be received by October 1, 2015. The following information is required: (1) Curriculum Vitae – your most recently updated CV, (2) Letter of Interest and (3) list of names and contact information for five references. Please upload this information to apply online to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF00657>.

The University of California, Davis, is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty, staff, and students. The candidate must be able to work cooperatively and collegially within a diverse environment.